SPECIAL

GUIDO

ISSUE!!

Ok- listen up, everyone. The fan club has recently had the opportunity to be recognized as an official school club. There are, of course, both positive and negative aspects about becoming a school club. Let's talk about the good things first:

- 1- We get our picture in the 94-95 R.H.S. yearbook.
- 2- We'd have more school power.
- 3- We could participate in official school fundraisers.
- 4- We'd get a teeny bit more respect.
- 5- The fan club would still exist

at R.H.S. when we're not around. And now the bad things:

- 1- We'd always answer to the school.
- 2- Many creative restrictions.
- 3- Many budget restrictions.
- 4- A lot of stupid red tape and paperwork.
- 5- You guys would actually have to PAY YOUR DUES.
- 6- Boring meetings & elections.
- 7- We'd probably have to change our name to something dumb like "Handwriting Club".
- 8- The fan club would probably suck after I graduate. No, really. I don't want to sound arrogant, but I do many big things & a jillion little things to keep the club going & I just don't think the club would be the same w/ anyone else at the helm. The one person who'd come close would be Joe the V.P.

Anyway, please think it over and give us your opinion. Thanks.

It is the special Guido issue so: dig in and...!

Happy holidays!

FAN CLUB NEWS

The C.R.D.H.F.C. has survived yet another month. Some recent developments:

STICKERS! We may be able to get official C.R.D.H.F.C. stickers! Keep bugging us till we get around to it.

DINK! This isn't directly about the club, but we thought it was neat that HEARTBEAT RECORDS was thanked in DINK's nationally released album. We also hope that writing DINK really big will attract attention! Chuck Rutzen was also quoted in a newspaper article about DINK!

A SCHOOL CLUB? As President Pat mentioned in his editorial, The Chris Rutzen's Dad's Handwriting Fan Club may become an official school club (w/ a yearbook photo!).

The preliminary decision is up to us; we'll see what transpires.

MEMBER COUNT: 160 members ☺

Yes! If you're in the Chris Rutzen's Dad's Handwriting Fan Club, and you haven't yet recieved your Gazette, why are you sitting around reading this? Go find Pat or Joe the V.P. and demand your own copy.

MEMBER of the MONTH: Burke Podany

Ahh... the holidays. That has nothing to do with Burke Podany being December's Member of the Month, but it seems we should mention the holidays at some point. (This is the Holiday Issue) The reason Burke is our M.O.M. is because he wrote the first letter to the club, and Patrick promised him a reward.

- 1- Interesting. A lone lowercase "d" amongst the tall forest of capital letters.
- 2- That is just the coolest "Y" I have ever seen in my entire life.
- 3- Cellophane. It's all over.
- 4- Love them double "O"'s
- 5- Yellow? Yellow?! Who you calling yellow?!
- 6- I don't know what to say. "Monkey Bread" is just such a cool title.
- 7- That's supposed to be "Susan Is Insane" but who cares? It still looks cool.
- 8- Ah, the ever popular "G" that looks like an "E".
- 9- "A Hoes Head"? Oh, yeah.

INTERVIEW WITH THE GUIDO

THE CHRONICLES

CRDHFC: So, Guido, how does it feel to be a hitman for a nice club like this?

G: Well... It has its ups and downs. The joy of serving such a fine club, it's a real plus. I especially enjoy extracting information from sources.

CRDHFC: Is it a hard job?
 G: It's hard keeping the ultra-secret identity, but overall the joy of completing an assignment and reporting to Pat and Joe always brings a smile to my face.

CRDHFC: If you were stranded on a deserted island, what kind of pencil would you most like to have?

G: Any one used by Chris Rutzen's Dad.

CRDHFC: Good choice. Are you planning any possible future hits?

G: Uh, Elvis still owes me some money, and the Chipmunks, well I won't say anything about them right now.

(An anonymous passerby passes by): Hey, what are you guys doing?

G: I could tell you, but I'd have to kill you.

CRDHFC: Anyway, just hypothetically, if there was a Club Secretary who was not performing... up to par, what do you think possible consequences would be?

G: Excommunication from the club and a little "accident." (maybe cheese-whiz in the underwear department.)

(Club president Pat Hu enters): Kill Ace of Base.

G: I'm working on it, I'm working on it.

CRDHFC: Hmm, Do you have any advice for all these young hitmen (or women) hopefuls out there?

G: Always remember, everyone has a price. And if at first you don't succeed, well, don't ask me for help.

CRDHFC: What is your favorite snack food?

G: Anything that's dead and a few things that aren't.

CRDHFC: What is your present marital status?

G: Single. Still knockin' 'em dead.

CRDHFC: What is the last book you read?
 G: Read?... Well, sorry guys I gotta go to my hemorrhoid appointment.
 CRDHFC: One more thing before you go: Can I have your autograph?

Guido

Hey, to all you Guido wannabes, the warden the street is his butt feels like mashed potatoes. See if you can find him. — ☺ —

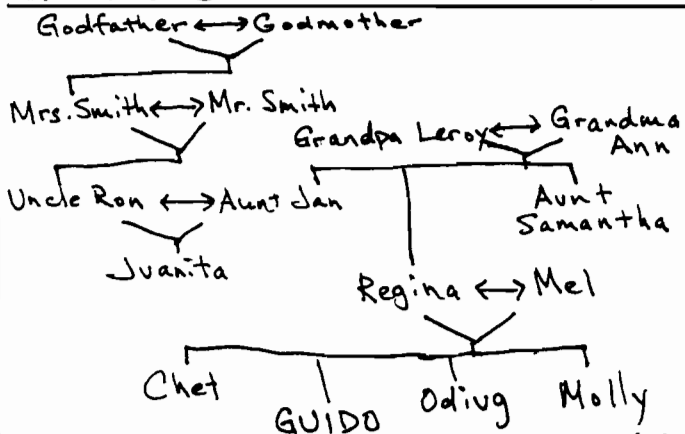

BELOW:

An artist's rendition of Chris Rutzen's dad in action! This brings up the question: "How exactly does Mr. Rutzen hold his pen?"

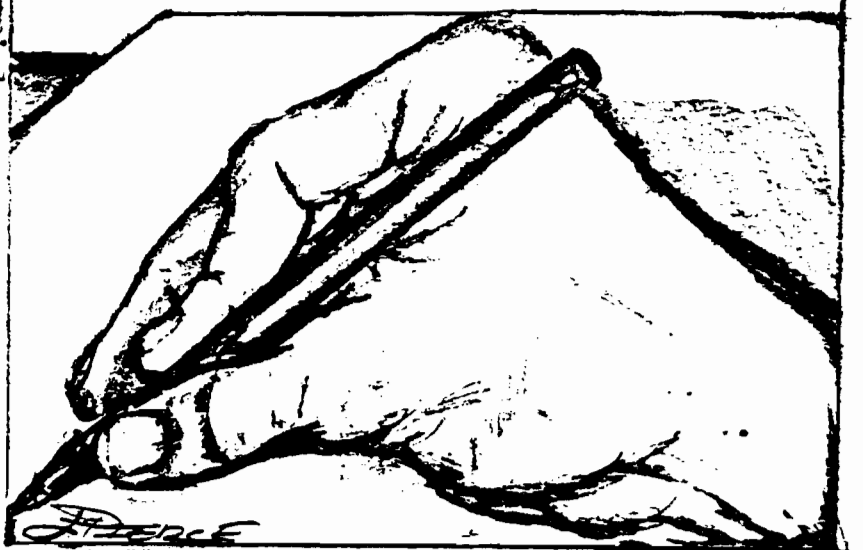

Artist Justin Pierce, who seems quite pleased with his picture.

It's THE Mica CORNER!

OK, what do I know about Mica Campbell?

- She won't join the club unless we put her in the Gazette.
- She's a senior.
- I sort of know her.
- Her name is a rock.
- Her car rocks.
- She rocks.
- Her hair is shorter than in the picture.
- She's the guide, manager, & mentor of Blank.
- She's seen the world's smallest chapel.
- and... - She likes albino brownies.

Once again, here are the Member of the Month runners up -

R.J. GILPIN

FREE MIKE TYSON!

R.J. is the assistant engineer, but lately he's been making big steps up the corporate ladder. He's helped out a lot in printing & laminating - and he's so cute, you could just hug him.

JEFF CLAPPER (JIMBO JONES)

Jeff gave me a Kinko's Copy Card w/ much money on it. He'll bite your ear off unless you feed him PRZ. Oh, and his dad invented the Clapper™. Really.

CHRIS GLESS

Chris has been a devoted C.R.D.H.F.C. member since last year when nobody had heard of it. But I really put him here cuz his birthday is coming up
