CHRIS RUTZEN'S MOM'S HANDWRITING UNVEILED!!!

Listen carefully: The Chris Rutzen's Dad's Handwriting Fan Club.

Does that sound odd to you? It does to me. I often reflect on the whole idea that was launched about a year ago, and I am truly baffled at what the C.R.D.H.F.C. has become.

Sometimes it's really hard for me to believe how many people have simply heard of the club, because I remember in the beginning when Joe and I would say, "Woah, that'd be awesome if we got, like, fifty members!

I've thought that the C.R.D.H.F.C. is like something you'd see on "Saved by the Bell" and say, "Ah, that would never happen at our school."

If there's anything that I hope can be learned from the C.R.D.H.F.C., it's that anything is possible. From a small, little mind exploded a crazy, little fan club devoted to somebody's handwriting, and so it can happen to you, too.

Use your mind, create something new, and don't be ashamed of it.

It's not easy, remember. I'm sure some people think we whip up the Gazette in 5 minutes, but it's a lot harder than you think. Thanks.

Happy Joe Dennis Day!!!

Pat H. C.R.D.H.F.C. President So, there!

FANCLUB NEWS

Sam's Short for Samuel! We're getting interviewed again! This time it'll be done by the "underground" zine Sam is short for Samuel. Check it out. Ask Courtney Freeman or Dyani Scheuerman about it.

CAST YOUR VOTES! It's the 1st annual C.R.D.H.F.C. awards! Hand in your completed ballots to Pat, Joe, or Brad!!!!!!

CONTRIBUTION!!! C'mon! Anyone who records a song (however crude or smooth) on a C.R.D.H.F.C. theme can give it to us and we'll put it on the (hopefully) forthcoming benefit album. Think C.R.D.H.F.C. the Soundtrack

MEMBER OF the MONTH: Mrs. Kramer

What a "Rags to Riches" story! Mrs. Kramer (mother of Brad the Speaker) has gone from Enemy Of the North (Feb. 95, Issue #5, Vol. 1) to Member of the Month this month. Though we were a bit miffed about her making Brad get a hair cut back in January, she made up for that by getting the copies of the April issue made. She promptly joined the Club to secure her M.O.M. chances. Anyhow, fittingly, Brad's Mom is May's M.O.M. Heh, heh. - ☺ -

JOE: Man, we've got to do another one of these things?
RAD: I do! I do! Here it is, a comparison between Chris Rutzen's Dad's and Mom's handwriting!!!

JOE: Wow. It's so enthralling to see these two samples next to each other, mano a mano. I always knew CRD's handwriting was amazing, so I was anxious to see CRM's handwriting.

1: And her handwriting certainly lives up to Rutzen-parent standards.

3: It seems to possess the kindergarten teacher-like quality.

P: Although CRM's handwriting is quite excellent, I'm afraid I have to say that it looks like chicken scratch compared to CRD's handwriting (at this point, Chris Rutzen enters).

2: HEY! Don't talk about my mom like that!!
1: Sorry, but I have to agree. I mean, even the way CRD crossed out "Dexo" is immaculate. It's like, so, "Dexo Sketchew!"

3: It was as if he didn't even make a mistake!

1: I don't think CRD makes mistakes. At least not when he's writing.

2: You're right, Joe. But I have to wonder what brought about the metamorphosis of CRD's "E"-like "G". I just gotta know! I mean, now it's a "G"-like "G"!

3: I feel as if a part of me is missing now. If CRD were to write HOES again, it wouldn't look like HOES, and that's a shame.

1: Hey! I just realized that CRM's handwriting is slanted to the left, while CRD's handwriting is slanted to the right!

P: Hmm... that's interesting. God, I think this is our worst analysis yet. Maybe also our worst issue, too. = sigh:

C: C'mon, Pat. You always put yourself down.

J: Let's get back to the analysis. CRD's handwriting just has lots more character than CRM's. Even the lines are thicker.

B: It has more "umph!", if you will... but you probably won't.

P: God, that was corny.

B: I think you mean CHEEZY.

Paul and J: Oh God! = gag = (various vomiting sounds).

J: All kidding aside, Chris Rutzen's parents' handwriting is no laughing matter.

C: So do you think I'll ever have cool handwriting like either of my parents? I mean, it's a lot to live up to.

P: I've said it before and I'll say it again: One day, Chris Rutzen will have handwriting that'll be cool as hell! It's inevitable. But will it be like his dad's, his mom's, or a mix of both? That's the only thing left to be determined.

sit my cousins all the time.

Ham... Speaking of cousins I seem to recall a particular incident w/you and one of your younger cousins. Uh... what incident?

All right, no problem. How do you get along with kids. Just great!!! There seems to be a natural magnetism between me and little children. It's kind of hard to explain.

Whatever. So why babysitting? I mean, you could probably make more money elsewhere. I JUST LOVE KIDS!!!

Any special features in your babysitting repertoire? I am certified to give CPR, I can play tennis, help with homework, and give dating advice. stee hee!!

It's say you're sitting for Billy, 3, and Bobby 5. While play, 2g frisbee outside, Bobby runs down the street after a puppy as a car speeds toward him, while Billy slips and falls into a nearby pond. You're 50 ft. away from both. What do you do? Simple. I take the frisbee, throw it at Bobby to knock him off the street onto safety and sprint to rescue Billy from the water.

ENEMY OF THE MONTH: Sarah Miller

This is a petition to have Sarah Miller be enemy of the month. Some reasons - 1. She smells 2. She's evil 3. She never takes notes in physics for me when I'm not there 4. She likes running 5. She is always telling me her plans to be member of the month

Ok. I received this petition from Rachel Gore one day and as I read through the list, I realized that, joke or no joke, we had no choice but to make Sarah Miller Enemy of the Month. To hear Sarah's side of the story, see page six.

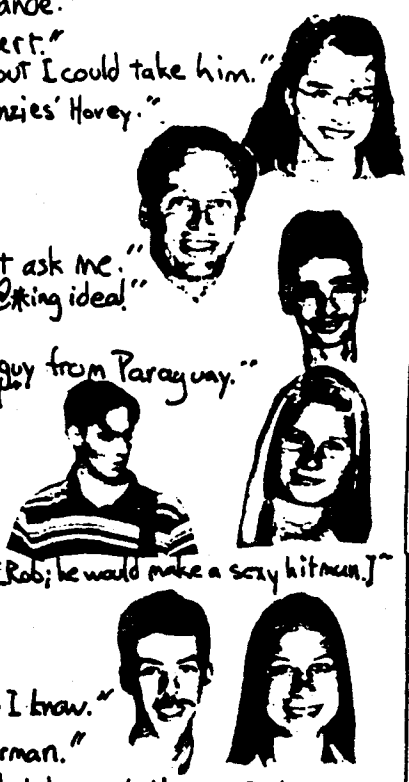

1. Ben Weinand	17. Chris Rutzen
2. Anne Lofaro	18. Dan Klasovsky

These are the Member of the Month runners-up

ROB BOLES If you haven't checked out Rob's amazing article about the C.R.D.H.F.C. in the school newspaper, I strongly urge you to search for a copy. Rob did a superb job and we thank him for making us sound good.

VICK and ERIC Nick Robinette and Eric toll went on a mission to expand the C.R.D.H.F.C. empire in Cuyahoga Falls. For several days and several nights, these two devoted their souls to the club and signed up over 30 new members. More importantly, they even got the people to pay their entrance fees.

RYAN BRANNON Though Ryan is very deserving of this runner-up position, every time he does something for the benefit of the club or for me, he comes up with a big sermon on why he should be the next A.O.M. This has become such a funny routine that I feel inclined to deny him the high power that is the Member of the Month.

Hey!... Pat Hooo!... Yo, why you gotta be... yeah!... Blue Blockers, baby!... Jill Wesley... wussup?!... some Member of the Month action... Stillborn!... Beastie Boys, baby!... HawHawHaw!... saltine a go-go!... chuck D... aw yeah...

MARCO BARCO'S HAIR CARE CORNER!

Hi! It's me again, Marco Barco, here to help you sort out the mysteries & challenges of caring for your hair, and making it shiny & beautiful. This month we'll be reviewing some of the all-time greatest hair in entertainment.

First, of course, is the ultimate in beautiful hair, the one, the only, John Travolta. His hair is awesome, fabulous, it's to die for. Us mortals can only hope to one day aspire to have hair half as great as John's. Not only does he have ultimate hair, but he prevents it from moving while executing his godlike dance moves. I admit, his hair is slightly short, but that can be overlooked due to his natural gifts. If you need to refresh your memory on what it looks like, want to revel in John's aura, or just want to see a good movie, I suggest renting Saturday Night Fever.

Now we'll discuss the 3 other gods of hair. The Bee Gees. Except for Maurice, who's gone rather bald, they have hair second only to John's. Not only do they have beautiful hair on their heads, they have enough hair on their chests and arms to overflow their shirts. God truly blessed them by giving them so much hair.

Now, all of you out there may not agree with me, and to you I can say only one thing: You're wrong!

One more thing. I recieved no birthday presents, no cash donations, and worst of all, no letters in the past months. I'm begining to think none of you care about getting beautiful hair, and that hurts, it really hurts.

Well, goodbye and I'll see you next time. Send me something. PLEASE.

THIS LETTER HAS BEEN APPROVED BY THE POSTAL SERVICE AS AN EDUCATIONAL GAME FOR KIDS

Dear CRDHF.C.

I would like to clear the air with a few members. Some things that I have said in my past column, may have been slightly offensive and rude. As many of you may know, I was the not so amazing Otis. In the beginning it was very interesting. Towards the end, I began to just spit things out and offend whoever I wanted to. So as an apology, I'm very sorry and I won't continue the column. But also some of our female members, lighten up. I don't care what day it is. I think it was said best by our marching band on the way back from the Cuyahoga Falls game "Chicks suck butt!"

P.S. My personal opinion is that chicks actually suck. Viva Chuck.

Sincerely,

Chris Rutzen
Dante Casagrande

Wow. And so, the Amazing Otis chapter of the CRDHF.C. comes to a close... or does it? Dante, I'm not really sure where you're coming from or what you're trying to prove, but thanks for clearing the air with everyone.

Dear CRDHF.C.

Yello! I picked up a copy of your group's zine at good 'ol Heartbeat Records. I must say that it was more than I'd expected. That was the February one. I missed the March issue! I was going to Heartbeat almost every day to get the new one, but I guess I missed it. I myself publish a zine, THE GOLDEN, SMITH'S big zine. Any chance of exchanging? April issue for a copy of the Gazette? Thanks!

ANTHONY RICH

Anthony,
Glad you liked the Gazette, and we're sorry you couldn't get a hold of the April issue, but we didn't have enough extras to put at Heartbeat. Hey, man. I sent you all the back issues.

ues, and a membership card about a month ago. What is goin' on?! Peeeeeace ooonunt, MAAAAAN! P.S. You write like a girl.

Dear nice little club,

We have always been loyal (i.e. illiterate) members. We were even members of the month. Wuh-hoo. However, since we are illiterate, we have trouble reading a lot at one time. Issue 7 volume 1 was Chuck full of those silly words. We couldn't read it all in it-tuck nitty too much of our brains. Please bring the intelligence level of the Gazette down to our white trash level so we can understand it. Tee hee you're nice.

Sincerely,

Miss October

Miss March

Urn Reyes, sister of Nathan-John Deere Posse.

P.S. X have an idea - how about making a calendar w/ M.O.M. (and running up for a whiny Nick Bonch). What a good idea!

A LATE/TIME NOISE REDUCTION CON OFF

DEAR

This letter was started in Germany by six kids. It started in 1991. If it gets through 1995, it will be in the Guinness Book of World Records and your name will be in it! It hasn't been broken yet. So please don't spoil the fun for everyone. Copy this letter word for word and send it to six(6) other people. Then send a picture postcard to the top person on the list. Move the other five(5) names up and add yours to the bottom. Please do this in four(4) days, or the chain will be broken. In approximately 24 days you will receive 82 postcards from around the world. This letter has been approved by the postal service as an educational game for kids.

FROM MIKE WALKO

Damn it, Mike Walko! I hate it when people send me these things! Guido's goin' after you, buddy.

Greeting CRDHF.C. I'm currently in the ST. LOUIS AIRPORT AWAITING FLIGHT 255 TO SACRAMENTO, CA. I'M IN ST. LOUIS THAT'S IN MISSOURI. RIGHT? SO WHY THE HELL ARE THEY SELLING "GREETINGS FROM ILLINOIS" POSTCARDS IN THE AIRPORT? OH, WELL. I'M GOING TO INTERVIEW MAINA A CALIFORNIA MEMBER OF THE CRDHF.C. TO LOOK FORWARD TO THIS 2000 FIGHT BEFORE PHILL TADSEN

ADDRESS
CRDHF.C.
Mr. Patrick Whit
5626 Morning Rd.
Kent, OH 44240

PLEASE, I'M OBVIOUSLY NOT AS TOUGH AS TYRONE.

I LOVE
CHRIS RUTZEN'S
DAD!

(I had a waitress at Le Bistro in San Anedra California write this; after I noticed her Supreme Handwriting on our check)

Phill, we're anxiously awaiting those California interviews. And don't worry, big guy, Tyrone is one tuff dog. I've never written below that line, either. Hmm... The Phill Tadsen's Waitress's Handwriting Fan Club? It could happen.

Sorry, Sarah, but the public has spoken. Don't take it so hard, though. On to your questions:

- Nathan Reyes was the first member to be E.O.M.
- You ARE still a member.
- That's up to Chuck.
- A handwriting fanclub.

P.S. - For the record, Otis got rid of himself.

Jessica and Amanda,
Come on gals, that's no way to look at things. You illiterate members should use Chris Rutzen's dad's handwriting and the Gazette as tools for learning how to read. After all, reading is FUN!

P.S. - I have an idea - how about you guys making a calendar w/ M.O.M.? What a good idea!

I'm terribly sorry, Mrs. van Daan! I'm so sorry!

Oh! My fur coat! My beautiful fur coat that my mother gave to me!
